

A Month of Sundays

Services and Children's Religious Education 10:30 a.m. Adult Forum 9am

February 1

Laura Emerson, "Bible 101 Continued: Leviticus"

Here is the next chapter in Laura's series of Biblical topics, from her inquiring perspective. The most widely cited verse Leviticus is used to condemn homosexuality, but since it is one of the most boring books in the Bible, few people know what the other thousands of verses say about the time and place, so long ago and far away, in which this book was written. If the rest of Leviticus were similarly applied to contemporary discourse, football wouldn't be an American pastime, fashion wouldn't be much of an industry, and agriculture wouldn't support as large a population. If you were to draft such a detailed book for UUs, what would it include? Laura Emerson was a religion and classics major at Duke University, and delivers services at liberal churches around the country. She is a member of Emerson UU Church in Houston.

Fanny DeGesero, "What's Love Got to Do with It?"

What comes first, love or justice? What changes us, transforms us as individuals: our minds or our hearts? And what changes the world? Fanny will read this sermon by UU minister Rev. Marti Keller. Fanny is a member of our Fellowship and an avid quilter and book lover.

Christina Branum-Martin, "To Dwell Together in Peace"

The task of peacemaking is arduous for governments, communities and individuals. Gandhi said "Be the change you want to see in the world". Yet it takes practice to become the person we each aspire to be. Christina Branum-Martin, a seventh generation Unitarian, lives in Houston with her husband and eight-year-old daughter. She is a member of the Bay Area UU Church.

Greeter: Dorothy Treviño
Facilitator: Gerry Carr

Board Member: P. McGuffey
Music: Margaret Canavan

February 22 POT LUCK AFTER THE SERVICE

Gerry Carr, "Rising from the Ashes"

Inspired by Elizabeth Lesser's book Broken Open, Gerry will share her personal story of how the difficult events of the past five months have been opportunities for spiritual and personal growth. Gerry is past president of the Fellowship and leads our Program Committee.

President's Message

This month I thought I'd talk to you a bit about the current work of your board. First of all, Cheryl Henry was appointed to fill the at-large position vacated by Donnie Lee. Thank you, Cheryl, for agreeing to join us. And thank you Donnie for serving and good luck to you and Katrina in your move.

In April we will create a slate of positions to be filled for the next year; a president elect, 2 at-large positions, a secretary and a treasurer. Some current members may sign up again but it is also your opportunity to join. Let one of us know of your interest. John Hunger will become the new president and I will stay on as past president. Our fiscal year runs July to June so new board members would begin in July. We will also soon develop a budget for next year. The board member slate and the budget will be presented to the fellowship members in our annual meeting in May for your approval.

The board has a couple of new items on the agenda. One potential project is leasing space to the former UTMB child care center. Cheryl Henry, Madeleine Baker and I recently met with Georgia Strain, laid-off director of the UTMB child care center and Robert English, a scientist at UTMB and parent to explore the possibility. We walked through the space and visualized what it would entail to have children here. There are many hurdles to be addressed like insurance, minor modifications of space for safety and other logistics while keeping the use of building available for our usual activities.

But this idea is certainly in line with our desire to serve our community. The next step is for this group to submit a proposal to the board in time for the February 9th board meeting for consideration.

The aesthetics task force and landscape committee are considering ways to beautify our entrance. The landscape committee will do the planting. Construction bids are out for the board and then congregation to consider on a structure to conceal all the black pipes and wires on the south side of our entrance.

There is a more organized effort to meet the needs of our children in Religious Education. Stay tuned for more information about the RE program from Amanda Prather. And it is possible that if we do house the UTMB childcare, our child population would grow.

I recently sent five letters out to members we have not seen in awhile. Look for the update on them elsewhere in the newsletter as we receive their information.

There are six of us women from the congregation, Bets Anderson, Margaret Canavan, Madeleine Baker, Gerry Carr, Cheryl Henry and myself going to the International Convocation of Unitarian Universalist Women being held in Houston February 26 through March 1. I am imagining an inspiring and uplifting time.

Remember the board serves you. Let us know your ideas.

Peace,
Susan
